China (MRL for Grapes)

Dated: 19.09.2017

Advisory for Exporters of Fresh Fruits include Grapes to China

The Chinese National Health and Family Planning Commission, Ministry of Agriculture, China Food and Drug Administration has released the National Food Safety Standard for Maximum Residue Limits for Pesticides in Foods which includes fresh fruits and vegetables (like Grapes, Mangoes). This standard will be replaced with the current MRL Standard which would be implemented and has already come in effect from 18th June 2017.

In accordance with above directives, exporters / growers are advised to strongly adhere to the import requirements of China and not make any shipments without getting the product tested prior to export and found to be compliant.
